Bournemouth Arts by the Sea Festival

Event
Welcome to the 8th annual Arts by the Sea, an inspirational and diverse arts festival, featuring over 100 unique, thought-provoking performances, installations and artistic endeavours taking place in various locations across Bournemouth, between Saturday 29th September and Saturday 6th October 2018.

Expect first-time projection mapping on the Town Hall, wandering street theatre acts, rousing international musical performances, award-winning comedy, mesmerising walkabout puppets, quick witted poetry, film screenings from Bournemouth University, and a remarkable night-time carnival parade. We believe more than any previous years the festival contains something for every member of the family, providing art that is fun for everyone, a true carnivalesque celebration of culture accessible to all.

Many of our events are free to attend and take place in Bournemouth’s beautiful town centre locations, with safeguarding the natural environment a key ethos of the festival – so please think sustainably when you visit us!

Arts by the Sea is also part of BOMO - a season of Arts, Culture and Ideas, which brings together a series of thought leadership conferences in technology and creativity – linking into the festival’s annual theme ‘New Frontiers’. Why not visit some other BOMO and Fringe festival events while you’re here? We hope you enjoy the show.

Innovations in technology continue to accelerate and transform society, unlocking new potential, while also creating unique problems. “New Frontiers is a themed strand of programming at Arts by the Sea 2018, which will playfully explore the impact of the technological revolution and question how technology will shape the future prospects of the human race. Highlights include our mind-controlled cinema MOMENT, the projection mapping spectacular ‘Silicon Shores’, VR experience ‘Our Dancing Shadows’ by innovative artists Kaleider and numerous appearances from pop-up robots of the future.”

SILICON SHORES BY THE COLOUR PROJECT

The internationally acclaimed Colour Project is set to bring Bournemouth Town Hall to life like never before, with a colossal projection mapping show which will feature design contributions from pupils at Glenmoor and Winton Academy. ‘Silicon Shores’ will reference the influence of digital technology and social media through the unlikely prism of the ocean, turning the concept of ‘surfing the web’ on its head. The ten-minute experience will draw parallels between undersea submersion and the all-encompassing nature of online space. Both dystopian and playful themes will be conveyed through a ten-minute audio-visual experience, featuring everything from robotic sea creatures to digital junkyards lurking in the ocean. Watch out for a shape-shifting octopus, whose changing skins were designed by local young people as part of the festival’s annual engagement programme.

The projection show will be a completely unique premiere for the 2018 event, which uses the architecture of Bournemouth’s historic Town Hall building as a canvas for an unforgettable digital spectacular.

DEPTH OF FIELD: RESEARCH THROUGH FILM ‘ESSENCE’ BY ROMAN GERODIMOS

Essence is about harmony, diligence and beauty. It is about the struggle of the individual to create and belong in something that is bigger than the self. It is about our need to hope, believe and love. As Mr Badura–Skoda notes in his essay, “everybody has the capacity of vision”...
Bournemouth University’s screen in the Square will be showing a selection of animation, art films, shorts and documentaries by BU academics. The opening weekend will feature award-winning animations, as well as films by Senior Lecturer and artist Lizzie Sykes, and Research Lecturers Vicky Isley & Paul Smith who are world-renowned artists working under the name boredomresearch.

During the week the screen will host documentaries and shorts showcasing BU research including award-winning films exploring everything from food poverty, to the experiences of older male carers. Hidden between the films there will be a series of “Visual Riddles” by Dr Trevor Hearing, written by poet and Professor Emeritus Sean Street, which viewers are invited to solve.

MONDAY 1ST OCTOBER – FRIDAY 5TH OCTOBER @ TOWN SQUARE

FIRST PERSON BY ZEST

Described as your very own race to the summit of life’s Success Mountain. First Person prepares only the ambitious and determined in order to prosper and excel in the world of adulthood. Gearing you up for a life of health, wealth and well-being peaks, this 3D-minute labyrinth of a virtual realm sees two players do battle to compete for life’s ultimate prize – happiness. All they need to do is follow the voice of the unseen Guide as they look to reach their destination of Success Mountain.

SWYRON BY NUTKHUT

A walkabout creation fused together by a unique blend of Vedic and Victoriana, Nutkhut’s Swyron is unquestionably a steampunk revolution. Timeless, universal and mythical, Swyron entertains the masses with his intergalactic adventures on his steamy, time-travelling machine.

CUPID’S REVENGE

Pete Shenton and Tom Roden aka New Art Club, possibly the UK’s best loved comedy dance theatre company, are making a brand–new show in defence of love. Real Love. In today’s disposable world where love is (mis)used to sell us everything from mobile phones to dog food and insurance policies... where did real love go? Or is it still there somewhere? Where is Cupid when we need him? Can he help us find and reclaim the real thing? Tickets £8-14 from pdsw.org.uk, suitable for ages 12+, may contain haze.

LEAVE NO TRACE

The Arts by the Sea festival is committed to reducing its own environmental impact and to ‘leave no trace’. We also pledge to show our support for farmers and producers in developing countries by promoting Bournemouth’s Fairtrade Town status. Check out the Green tab on our website to find out what we and our partners are doing and to learn more about this year’s projects.

2018 PROJECTS

SUSTAINABLE TRAVEL
We’d love you to travel to the festival as sustainably as possible. Find more information about sustainable travel in our area at www.gettingabout.co.uk. We’ve also mapped all the cycle parking in the town centre for you on the Green tab on our website.

REFILL YOUR BOTTLE
Help stop waste from plastic bottles and unrecyclable coffee cups by bringing your own. We’ve mapped all the places in the town centre you can get a refill on the Green tab on our website.

RECYCLING
Recycling is tricky in the town centre as bins often become contaminated by unrecyclable waste. This year, Bournemouth Council’s Seafront team have introduced 200 new bins along the prom with clearly marked Recycling and General Waste labels. Please recycle here, or do your bit by taking your waste with you and recycling at home.

CYCLING
Cycle to the festival and get your bike MOT’d. We are running Dr Bike and bike tagging sessions.

BEACH CLEAN WITH LITTER FREE COAST & SEA
Come along and take part in a beach clean.
SATURDAY 29TH SEPTEMBER 11:00 Pier Entrance BH2 5AA

ASSOCIATE ARTIST: WILL SIMPSON

Relaunched for 2018, the Associate Artist Scheme provides tailored artist development. With research and development at the heart of the initiative, a spotlight is focussed upon a selected artist throughout 12 months - this year’s artist is Will Simpson who created ‘Rising Sun’ for the 2017 festival. This year he is exploring a new concept installation ‘PRISM’. This artwork draws upon digital, kinetic and weather-powered technology and some pilot activity will be showcased at the 2018 festival. Check our website for more information.

ARTIST OPEN CALL 2019

The Arts by the Sea Open Call is an annual scheme for early career artists to create a commissioned piece for the festival. Successful artists will receive funding, support and a platform to showcase their work. This year Arts by the Sea welcomes two Open Call artists Artemis and Levantès Dance Theatre. Check our website for more information.

ARTS BY THE SEA OPEN CALL 2019

Arts by the Sea is a registered Arts Award Supporter and the festival can help you work towards obtaining all levels of Arts Award. See our website for more information.
We would like to thank you for visiting this years’ instalment of Arts by the Sea Festival. We hope that the pieces of work on show have captured your imagination and our spectulars have been as much pleasure to view as they have been to produce.
